EASTER THOUGHTS

By
L. D. Whitaker
Farmville, Va.

Upon the cross, Christ Jesus died
The souls of man to save;
And to believers, promised life
To them beyond the grave.

"I am the resurrection and
The life," the Savior said,
"And all who die with faith in me
Shall live again though dead."

These words He spoke to Martha when
In death her brother lay;
He wept with her, then from the tomb
Brought Lazarus forth that day.

And when from death the Savior rose,
Through His redeeming grace,
A promise of eternal life
He gave the human race.

Down through the years there echoes still
The words He spoke back then,
"Because I live, though ye be dead,
Ye shall relive again."

FOR HUNTERS IN 1954-55

During the past hunting season Shenandoah County led all counties in the state with its deer kill of 1381, according to I. T. Quinn, the executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

Bath was the leading county in the number of turkeys killed which amounted to 145, and Augusta led all other counties with a bear kill of 80.

Counties west of the Blue Ridge Mountains were ahead of the counties east of the mountains in the total deer kill, 7373 to 6695. The same was true of the bear kill, 231 to 39. However, counties east of the Blue Ridge reported 1561 turkeys bagged in comparison to 466 west of the mountains.

It is believed, Quinn says, though not positively known, that squirrels killed east and west of the Blue Ridge Mountains totaled about the same. More rabbits, more quail, most doves and practically all of the waterfowl were taken, as they are each year, east of the Blue Ridge.

To My Friends of Appomattox County:

It has come to my attention that statements have been made that I have encouraged opposition to the present Commissioner of Revenue; that I have contacted his opponent in an effort to get him to run and that I have contacted others in behalf of his opponent. This is absolutely false. Anyone making such a statement or making any inference of any such action on my part is not only mistaken but is telling an unmitigated falsehood.

HOME FOOD CONSUMPTION TO BE SURVEYED NATIONALLY VIRGINIA AREAS CHOSEN

A national survey to learn what foods families are eating in 1955 is to be made this spring, according to an announcement from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In Virginia, metropolitan Richmond, and the counties of Augusta, Rappahannock, Warren and Northumberland have been selected as places where a cross-section of households will be visited. The survey, to include about 6,000 households in 42 states, will be made for the Department by National Analysts, Inc., a private marketing research firm working under contract.

This new survey, dealing with home consumption of specific foods, is the first to include both city and rural households on a nationwide scale since 1942. It will provide current facts and figures needed by nutritionists, home economists, and market analysts. Such data provide a basis for educational programs to improve food use from a nutritional point of view, and for finding out whether large groups of families have low consumption of important foods.

In each city and rural area selected, a representative of National Analysts will gather the facts on home consumption of specific foods between about April 1 and the end of June. Arrangements will be made with the selected families in each survey area to give information about the kinds and amounts of food they are using, and about family size, income, and other factors that affect their choice of foods. All information will be strictly confidential. No record is made of names of persons taking part.

Variety Show

A Variety Show sponsored jointly by the Senior Class and Athletic Department will be put on tonight at 8:30 P. M. The proceeds will go toward helping paying expenses for a trip for the Seniors to Washington and help buy equipment for the high school playground. Also that night Miss Appomattox High School will be crowned. The girls who are representing their classes are: Roberta Harvey, Senior Class; Ellen Carter, Junior Class; Yvonne Ferguson, Sophomore Class; Clydie Campbell, Freshman Class; and Ida Virginia Covington, Eighth Grade. The girl receiving the most votes will be crowned that night. The way each girl gets votes is having one vote count one cent. This promises to be a lively show featuring Honky Tonk days, modern music, popular music, dancing and the Jazz Band of Appomattox High School.

Aid For Farmer

Mr. C. S. Rush, Chairman of the Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization Committee, announced today that the committee is still accepting requests from farmers for financial assistance in carrying out approved conservation practices on their farms. There are still considerable funds on hand which have not yet been allocated to individual farmers, and those farmers who desire to make use of these funds in carrying out approved practices should visit the ASC office in Appomattox and file their request.

A farmer may request only one practice at a time under the 1955 Conservation Program, but may file his request for another as soon as his first requested practice has been reported as performed.

The 1955 Conservation program offers a variety of practices to meet the conservation needs of our farm lands and the assistance per unit is considerable. These funds are intended to encourage farmers to carry out conservation practices on the nation's soil which would otherwise not be performed.

Womans Club Meeting Mon.

A large gorup of women from all sections of the county attended a meeting of the Woman's Club of Appomattox fonday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, to hear Walter C. Schnee, director of the Studio of Interior Decoration and Home Furnishings Coordinator for Miller & Rhoads, Richmond, speak on "Home Furnishings." Mr. Schnee was introduced by Mrs. Frank F. Carr, chairman of the American Home Department of the club.

"The decorating business is a fascinating one," said Mr. Schnee. He stated that not everyone is born with good taste, but it can be developed. A primary essential is a plan to be carried out with correlative thinking, beginning with the arrangement of the furniture in the room in terms of the family. The color scheme is important, as well as strategic placement of color and design.

The speaker said that color, design and decorations are individual, and it is interesting to know that women react to colors for their homes in relation to colors that they wear well.

"To present a successful decorating scheme, it is necessary to get a personal knowledge of the family and then proceed to advise intelligently that an honest decorating job will be achieved," he said.

In connection with his talk, Mr. Schnee displayed a number of fabrics and samples of floor covering which he used to give demonstrations of the well decorated rooms, including formal, informal, bedroom and nursery.

Mrs. Charles F. P. Crawley, president of the club, presided over the business session. A request for contributions from the Virginia Council on Health and Medical Care to be used for placing doctors in rural areas was presented.

Mrs. Crawley announced the resignation of Mrs. Bessie H. Caldwell as Club Historian. At a meeting of the Executive Board, Mrs. Robert J. Franklin was named to fill this vacancy.

Mrs. Crawley read a letter from Miss Shawn Mabley, expressing her appreciation to the club for sponsoring her as a member from the Tri-Hi-Y Club to attend the recent Model Assembly in Richmond.
